Digital Chinese Medicine

Funded by Project for Enhancing International Impact of China STM Journals

Introduction & Scope

Digital Chinese Medicine (DCM) is a new, quarterly, open-access global publication that is funded officially by Project for Enhancing International Impact of China STM Journals — 2016.

Aimed at promoting the combination of TCM and modern information science, and to realize the modernization, scientization and standardization of Chinese medicine, the new journal would provide an important platform for spreading the scientific and technological TCM culture. The journal of DCM focuses on the latest scientific research in the multidisciplinary fields of TCM, Chinese materia medica, computer and information sciences including theoretical discussion of digital TCM, data mining of diagnosis and treatment from famous doctors, intelligent TCM diagnosis and treatment, modernization of Chinese medicine, digital acupuncture and big data of health.

The first issue of the journal launches in 2017. All contributions are welcomed.
