Cover Story

The cover image of UroPrecision's first issue artistically summarizes and delivers the journal's theme, urology and precision medicine. The medicine pill on the cover ideologically signifies every medical treatment and, more importantly, years of arduous hard work behind the scene. Radiating from the blue target in the center, elements inside the pill range from computational analysis to DNA strands to test tubes to medical records to several urological organs. They indicate not only the wide range of topics that UroPrecision will encompass but also the valuable collaborations across different professions that we aim to foster. Essentially, the cover is an invitation for you to witness and participate in cutting-edge advancements in urology and precision medicine through our journal.
